Picturesque views

Golfers know that sport alone is not everything. It's the outdoor activity combined with the highly pleasing landscapes of a golf course that make up the whole fascination of the game of golf.

Can it get better than that? We say yes!

Alternating views, for example of the mountains in the centre of the island, or the gorgeous vista of the fantastic coastal panoramas raise the aesthetic pleasure of the game, on the Atlantic island of Gran Canaria, to a whole new level.

Don't miss out on this playing pleasure for all the senses.

Gran Canaria

300 days of sun***

22 °C average temperature***

Gran Canaria is located, along with the other Canary Islands, in the area influenced by the trade wind belt. A healthy and pleasant subtropical climate always prevails. Despite an air humidity of approx. 70%, the wind ensures that there is never a feeling of oppressive heat. That is the reason, that one gets the impression that a permanent spring prevails on Gran Canaria. Ideal conditions for sporting activities.

Different altitudes and deep canyons in the interior of the island even give rise to so-called micro-climate zones. This diversity has earned Gran Canaria the name "Miniature Continent".

Salobre Golf & Resort

Salobre Golf & Resort is home to two courses, the Old Course, which opened in 2000, and the New Course, which was added eight years later. The 36-hole course is unique in its character on Gran Canaria. At around 6,100 metres, the Old Course is only about 400 metres longer than the New Course, but as a par-71 course it plays considerably longer than the “New”, which is a par-72 course. The special character of this course makes Salobre Golf & Resort an absolute holiday highlight.

Highlights

- On the 17th of October, the OLD and NEW golf courses were merged to feature three different loops, combining the Old Course's 18 holes and 9 holes of the New Course (1 to 3 and 13 to 18, with a par of 36).
- Modern learning area for golfers: Golf academy, workshop, TrakMan system and TPI (data analysis of swing and condition).
- In 2006, the OLD Course was the venue for important championships.

Meloneras Golf

The 18-hole Lopesan Meloneras Golf Course is located near Maspalomas and offers peace and relaxation. While the first nine holes are inland and offer a view of the mountains in the centre of the island, the other nine tees mostly lead directly along the sea. Large greens and wide fairways make this recreational round a tremendous pleasure. The real difficulty of the course, given the gorgeous scenery and magnificent views, is keeping your concentration.

Highlights

- Inspired by a design by Ron Kirby.
- Magnificent view of the mountains and the sea, surrounded by hundreds of palm trees.
- Design of the course attractive for beginners and pros alike.
- The level of difficulty on the course gradually increases. Players can thus constantly improve their skills.

Maspalomas Golf

Maspalomas Golf is located directly behind the dunes that separate party people from those seeking relaxation. The surprisingly flat fairways stretch, as a par-73, over just under 6,400 metres. The layout is somewhat simpler, the courses stretch wide and straight through the landscape, which is not quite as spectacular here compared to other courses. Therefore, ideal for the player who wants to take things a little easier.

Anfi Tauro Golf

A special highlight on the island is the Anfi Tauro Golf Course. The par-72 course is the newest on the island, having just opened in 2007. It was drawn by the well-known designers from Hagge, Smelek and Baril, who are also responsible for the layout at Doral Country Club in Florida, among other things. The hilly terrain is a real feast for the eyes and the sea views are spectacular.

Real Club de Golf de las Palmas

Founded in 1891, the Real Club de Golf de Las Palmas is the oldest golf club in Spain. The fantastic location of the course on a high plateau just outside of Las Palmas, the capital of Gran Canaria, is well worth a visit. Moreover, the unique topography is also the explanation for the short par-71 course, which does not measure 6,000 metres even from the backtees.
